To the PRINTERS.

THE ſeveral ſubordinate powers of legiſlation in America, ſeem very probably to have been conſtituted, upon the inhabitants being conſidered as free Britiſh ſubjects, and the impoſſibility of their being repreſented in the Britiſh parliament: Theſe powers are therefore to be conſidered as matters of JUSTICE rather than of FAVOR: That may be ſaid of them, which a great ſage of the law long ago obſerved upon Magna-Charta,‖ That it was not the mere emanation of royal bounty, but a declaration of the fundamental laws of the realm: They ought ever to be held ſacred; for the liberty which the ſubject in America juſtly claims as his birth right, can be eſtabliſhed on no other foundation: To deprive the coloniſts of thoſe ſubordinate powers, deſtroys that liberty: This may be done either directly or indirectly, and in either caſe effectually: It is done directly when the ſuperior power makes a law to prohibit their exerciſing their ſubordinate legiſlative powers at all, or reſtrain them wholly upon certain conditions: It is indirectly done when the ſame ſuperior claims a power over the people who are under the immediate juriſdiction of the ſubordinate legiſlative, the exerciſe of which is repugnant to the conſtitution. To tax a free Britiſh ſubject, for inſtance, without his conſent in parliament, is unconſtitutional: If then Americans are free Britiſh ſubjects, and cannot be repreſented in parliament, it is plain they cannot be taxed by the Britiſh parliament, conſiſtent with the Britiſh conſtitution: Further, if the deſign of erecting the power of legiſlation here was to preſerve this right of repreſentation to the ſubjects in America, does not the taxing them in Britain where they are not repreſented defeat that deſign, and render the power in this inſtance a nullity? No one at this time will ſay that the people of America are not taxed by the parliament: The act is already in force: Every man that ſhall make uſe of Glaſs, Painter's Colours or Paper, hereafter to be imported, will feel it: So will every woman that drinks her diſh of tea: at leaſt they will pay it if they do not feel it:¶ I wiſh then that the True Patriot,∨Amicus, or any writer on that ſide, would prove if they can, that the exerciſe of parliamentary juriſdiction in levying taxes on the coloniſts, either external or internal, while they are not and cannot be repreſented, does not effectually overthrow the legiſlative powers in America; or that it can be conſiſtent with any degree of freedom. We have a right to inſiſt upon their clearing up this point: If they do not, Can they with any good countenance aſk us, "wherein our liberties are wounded": It is a queſtion of the laſt importance: I have therefore a right to expect it will be treated ſoberly: I propoſe it, tho' an obſcure individual, in behalf of my country; and ſhall not take it as a private affront, if I am treated by thoſe gentlemen, as others have been, with ſlander and reproach: The hard names of "incendiaries", "inflammatory writers",&c. which have been liberally thrown out from that quarter, betray the want of reaſon and argument: They may ſerve to make fools either angry or merry, but will never make a man of ſenſe a proſelyte.

AMERICUS.

LONDON, Sept. 23.

We are told that there is a woman in a village in Glamorganſhire, South Wales, whoſe huſband ſome time ago, with the little fortune he got with her, bo't a ſmall farm; he had hardly cloſed the purchaſe, when death cloſed his eyes; however, not intimidated with this, the widow married a ſecond huſband, who ſowed it; he likewiſe died, and ſhe tried a third, who reaped it; but death ſoon ſnatched him away; ſhe then married a fourth, who thraſhed it; but he alſo followed the fate of his predeceſſors; and ſhe is now married to a fifth huſband, with whom ſhe is now enjoying the produce of it.—All this happened in leſs than 18 months.

Laſt week died the wife of one Godwin, a labouring man at Little Shelford in this county. The ſorrowful widower unable to bear the tho'ts of a ſingle ſtate, ſet off the next morning, and was married to a woman at Linton. At their return, in the evening, to Shelford, the dead wife was removed from his bed into a coffin, to give way for the new married couple to celebrate their nuptials. The coffin continued in the room all night.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, September 10.

A ſhort time ſince, a ſailor, a native of this city, who had been abroad three years came home, and finding his wife ſitting with another man by the fire, he aſked her where ſhe had the child then on her knee? She replied, dear Jack, I tho't you had been dead, and am married again. Very well, ſays Jack, but I married you firſt, and I'll have you while I am on ſhore, and he may be your huſband while I am at ſea; and as to the children, I will pay half the charges of maintaining them. They ſoon agreed, and the ſecond huſband, who kept a public houſe, became drawer to his wife, in hopes that Jack will ſoon fail, when he is to commence Landlord again.

Among the different Perſons talked of to ſucceed the late Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Right Hon. Col. Barre, member of Wycomb, is mentioned as one qualified in all reſpects to fill that important office; his abilities not being inferior even to thoſe of a T———d or a G——lle.*

We are informed that the conteſts at the next enſuing General Election are expected to be the greateſt ſince the late glorious Revolution in 1689.

We are authorized to aſſure the public, that the account of a late Negociation, printed in a Monthly Magazine, and in ſeveral News-papers, is, in many reſpects, utterly falſe; and in moſt, a perverſion and miſrepreſentation of facts, equally indecent to the———, and injurious to the parties concerned in that tranſaction.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 20.

Lately died at Barrington in this Province, Mr. Edward Evans, aged One Hundred Years; he perfectly remembered the Revolution in 1688, and was in the laſt Year of his Apprenticeſhip at Boſton, when Sir Edmund Andros was taken and ſent Home Priſoner.

Caſh given for good Pot-Aſh.

Meſſieurs EDES & GILL,

THE Charter^of this province, inveſts the power of making laws for its internal government in the General Aſſembly: Our laws are made with the conſent of Repreſentatives of our own free election: The people are all perſonally preſent by their Repreſentatives in the aſſembly which governs and taxes them: Thus the full enjoyment of thoſe eſſential rights which juſtly belong to them as free ſubjects of Great-Britain is preſerved. At the ſame time, that dependence, and ſubordination to the ſupream legiſlaeve of the nation which they are ever ready to acknowledge, conſiſtent with thoſe eſſential rights, will appear to be effectually ſecured, when it is conſider'd, that their laws muſt firſt have the concurrence of his Majeſty's Council of the province, upon whoſe election annually the Chair has its negative; and then the conſent of the Governor, who is appointed by the Crown, before they can be in force; And finally they muſt be laid before His Majeſty himſelf, who at any time during three years, diſannulls them at his royal pleaſure. I appeal to all the impartial part of Great-Britain, whether there is not all the Check which the Mother Country can in reaſon deſire, and whether a further controul leaves us any more than the name of free ſubjects.

[illegible] Action was brought for having maliciouſly, & with[illegible] probable Cauſe, procured the Plaintiff to be im[illegible] detained in Priſon 119 Days, upon a Charge [illegible] concerned in the fellonious Aſſault com[illegible] upon the Defendant in December 1764, and having [illegible]ouſly, and without any probable Cauſe, procured the [illegible]tiff to be indicted and tried for the ſaid Felony, at the [illegible] of the Supreme Court holden at Montreal, in [illegible] Months of February and March laſt, and given Evidence againſt the Plaintiff in Support of the ſaid Indictment: And the Damages were laid at £.2000 of lawful Money of this Province. The Defendant ſtated, in a long ſpecial Plea, the Grounds upon which he carried on the Proſecution againſt the Plaintiff, which amounted to a very ſtrong probable Cauſe. The Trial laſted about five Hours, and the whole Conduct of the Defendant in carrying on the late criminal Proſecution was very narrowly inquired into: And the Jury, after withdrawing for about five Minutes, gave a Verdict for the Defendant.

PHILADELPHIA, November 16.

By Capt. Creighton, from Liſbon, we learn, that lord Littleton arrived there the beginning of September from England: that the Engliſh factory entertained great expectations from his embaſſy; that he had two or three audiences, but the reſult of them had not tranſpired; that three men of war, and a number of tranſports, with three regiments on board, had ſailed for the Brazils, it was ſuppoſed, as by the laſt veſſels from thence they had received ſome diſagreeable advices of a revolt, and that the report of a revolt at Tercera was without foundation.

NEWPORT, November 16.

If thoſe Gentlemen and Ladies, deſirous of p[illegible] the Proſperity of the Community, whoſe Example and Influence might be of the utmoſt Advantage, would exert themſelves in countenancing, encouraging and inculcating the Virtues of Oeconomy and Induſtry, they would now, in a peculiar Manner, deſervedly merit the higheſt Applauſe. They cannot be inſenſible that ſome Meaſures, for the Public Good, are abſolutely neceſſary to be immediately purſued.——The example of a neighbouring Government at once occurs to be an Expedient worthy the Imitation of every Individual among us, as the moſt effectual Means of reſtoring us to a flouriſhing and reſpectable State, viz. by encouraging Oeconomy and Manufactures, and retrenching the Conſumption of European Superfluities.—It is obſervable, that we have been no Ways backward in concurring with our Neighbours in the ſuperfluous Expences and Extravagancies, which have been the Means of reducing them and us to our preſent poor, indigent and diſtreſſed Circumſtances: And we ſurely ought, in a ſupreme Degree, to be more alert and emulous in copying thoſe Examples which neceſſarily tends to our Reſtoration to Wealth and Proſperity, and muſt lay a good Foundation for our Arrival to a State of Opulence and Grandeur.

Laſt Tueſday died, at his Seat near this Town, John Baniſter, Eſq; aged about 60 Years, late a very eminent Merchant in this Place. His Remains were decently interred laſt Friday.

BOSTON, November [illegible]

The Inhabitants of this Metropolis ſtill perſevere in their Reſolution to diſcourage the Uſe of foreign Superfluities, as the only Means of ſaving the Country from impending Ruin. The Town met by Adjournment on Friday laſt: The Gentlemen appointed to obtain Subſcriptions reported; and it appear'd that a great Part of the Freeholders had ſubſcrib'd. The Subſcription Rolls are daily filling up at the Town Clerk's Office, where they were order'd to be lodg'd for that Purpoſe——While the Town were warmly engag'd in this laudable Attempt to promote Frugality and Oeconomy, they were not inattentive to the preſent diſtreſs'd Situation of their Trade, occaſioned by the additional Duties and Burdens laid upon it: And as theſe Duties appear'd to be prejudicial to the natural as well as conſtitutional Charter Rights of the People of this Province, they thought it proper to give their Repreſentatives their explicit Sentiments and Inſtructions upon a Matter of ſuch great Moment; and accordingly appointed a Committee to report at the Adjournment the 2d of next Month.——When Meaſures are propos'd which will bear to be ſcrutiniz'd, upon the Principles of Reaſon and the Conſtitution, a wiſe and prudent Community will never fail to adopt them with Unanimity: And while ſuch Meaſures are purſued with Vigour, every one will eaſily diſcern that all violent Efforts muſt be unneceſſary, and conſequently in the higheſt degree culpable: Upon this Conſideration the Moderator in an animated Addreſs, exhorted his Fellow-Citizens, to be ſtedfaſt in the Steps they had reſolv'd upon; and the Town unanimouſly agreed to exert themſelves on all Occaſions, to ſupport good Order.——It wou'd however be Injuſtice to the Inhabitants not to obſerve, that the laſt Reſolution was come into, to ſhow an Indignation at a dirty Trick of ſome one Perſon, doubtleſs an Enemy to our civil Rights, who under Cover of the preceeding Night, had paſted up a Paper on the venerable Elm, ſaid to contain Matter adapted (tho' happily it fail'd of the intended Effect) to irritate the Paſſions, at a Time when ALL depends upon our being cool, deliberate and firm.

Since our laſt the Towns of Charleſtown and Dedham have unanimouſly enter'd into the ſame Meaſures reſpecting the enumerated Articles, &c. and their Subſcription Rolls are filling up daily. (1)

The Philadelphians remark in their laſt Paper upon the late Tranſactions of this Town reſpecting Oeconomy, &c. as follows, viz. "A noble Example, well worthy "to be followed by every Britiſh Colony in America; "and it's hoped the Fire will kindle from Province to "Province, till we become one DETERMINED PEOPLE; "to purſue Induſtry and Oeconomy, and encourage our "own Manufactures." (1)

We have the Pleaſure to inform the Public, That notwithſtanding the Wiſhes and Deſigns of our Enemies, this Town was intirely free from Diſturbances on the 20th Inſtant—the Inhabitants are well united in purſuing ſuch Meaſures as are likely to help us out of our Difficulties, without having Recourſe to any Violences whatſoever.

We are aſſured that a Number of Gentlemen have advanced conſiderable to a Clothier in Roxbury, who has engaged to deliver in three Months ten Suits of as fine Homeſpun Broad Cloth, as can be bought of Britiſh for £.10 per Yard.

We now learn that the Southern Colonies, as well as the People of New-England, much approve of the late Meaſures taken by this Metropolis. (1)—Town-Meetings are called and calling to promote Frugality and Manufactures, as the beſt Method to convince our Maſter Country of their Miſtakes; or to ſave ourſelves from the Deſtruction that threatens us, by ſaving our Money.

It is reported that the Conſumers of ſuch Goods as pay Duty, being ſo generally agreed not to purchaſe the ſame, has determined ſome of the Importers to re-ſhip to Britain ſuch of thoſe Articles as may arrive after the 1ſt of December next.

Thoſe Towns who are moſt in earneſt to baniſh Extravagance, and encourage Manufactures, muſt certainly ſoon be in the beſt Circumſtances; and thoſe Provinces which moſt heartily come into the preſent Meaſures, muſt undoubtedly before long be juſtly eſteemed the moſt flouriſhing and happy.

We hear that ſome Days ago, the Honorable Henry Hulton, John Temple, William Burch, and Charles Paxton, [illegible] of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms in America [illegible] laſt Tueſday they held [illegible] great Room in Ha[illegible]

[illegible] Whitney was or[illegible] Church of Chriſt in [illegible]

[illegible] ſevere Gale, in which a [illegible] for Marblehead from the [illegible] Eagle Iſland, and every [illegible] periſhed. 'Tis ſaid the Maſter left her at the Vineyard to the Care of one Davis, a Pilot, to bring round.

The ſame Night a Sloop belonging to Mr. Chriſtopher Clarke of this Town, was caſt away on the back of Gerriſh's Iſland. The Veſſel loſt, but the People ſaved.

The ſame Night alſo, a ſmall Schooner from Newfoundland, bound hither, with about 30 Paſſengers on board, was caſt away on Hampton Beach; their Lives were all providentially ſaved.

Yeſterday we had a ſevere Storm of Snow, with very high Wind, and we fear we ſhall hear of much Damage being done thereby.

Meſſieurs EDES & GILL,

MR. Draper's Traveller ſhows his Modeſty by inſinuating a Deſign to delude the Public, in publiſhing that £.160,000 Duty and Tax Money was carried off by two Veſſels; that Sterling Money was not intended, is plain as the whole of what has been ſhip'd away was computed at a leſs Sum than the above, if ſuppoſed to be Sterling.—He allows near £.200,000 to have gone from us in this Way ſince 1764, but muſt excuſe our ſtill ſuppoſing it to be much more. However, this Matter may be put beyond Suppoſitions, by any one of the Gentlemen who have had the Care of thoſe Monies.——The Public have been hitherto much in the dark as to the real Amount of the late Duties, if they amount as the C—t Writer ſays, to near £.200,000 O. T. How alarming is the Proſpect of much larger Sums being taken from us, by the new Duties on Tea, Paper of all Sorts, Glaſs and Glaſs Veſſels, Painter's Colours, &c. (2)
